If you love or care about the women in your life, and you’re a woman between 18-65 years of age, we’d like your help!

Please consider participating in our campus-based study to characterize the biomechanical properties of female breasts.

Our ultimate goal is to improve breast reconstruction outcomes for the millions of breast cancer survivors.

While we cannot provide financial compensation for your participation, we can give you the opportunity to improve the lives of REAL Survivors.